By and large, Canadians' opinions about the Indigenous people of this country are formed without any knowledge of the culture's true history or firsthand experience of the present-day communities. This may explain the prevalence of racist, unsympathetic and generally prejudicial attitudes that are often directed towards this community. First Contact takes six Canadians on a 28-day journey intended to challenge these attitudes and shed a light on the true Indigenous experience. The travelers, all with strong opinions about Indigenous people, have been invited to leave their everyday lives behind and embark on a unique journey, travelling deep into the Indigenous communities throughout Canada. It is a journey that will challenge their perceptions and confront their prejudices about a world they never imagined they would see.

Episode 1: The Journey Begins

Episode 2: A Group Divided

Episode 3: A Road to Healing

From Vanessa Loewen and Desiree Single of Animiki See Digital Production, one of Canada's leading creators of Indigenous content.

"A fine, gripping journey into old and new prejudices." - The Globe and Mail

Leave It on the Water

Grades 7-12 2018 CC 11 min Kwassen Productions Inc.

Indigenous youth from the Coast Salish territory on Vancouver Island train to represent their community in the world's largest outrigger canoe race. Carrying on an old tradition using the canoe racing as a form of healing, they enter the biggest canoe race in the world, taking them from their small community all the way to Hawaii.

Breaking Free: W5

Grades 9-12 2019 CC 30 min CTV

Breaking Free is a compelling investigation into a decades long fight by a Manitoba man, Brian Anderson who continues to maintain his innocence following a 1974 murder conviction. W5's Avery Haines investigates the brutal murder case that may have led the Canadian justice system to convict an innocent man. Well before Indigenous rights and Truth and Reconciliation were a part of the national dialogue, correspondent Jim Reed exposed what, at the time, must have been shocking concepts: that police may lie, that the courts sometimes gets it wrong, and that Indigenous people may be more vulnerable to the failures of Canada's justice system.

LEGENDARY MYTHS: RAVEN ADVENTURES SERIES

Grades 1-6 2018 6- 10 min each Treaty 6 Productions Inc.

Legendary Myths is a series of short animated films using the artistic styling of the Pacific West Coast people. Each story is an adaptation of a myth inspired by Pacific West Coast folklore. Daniel Foreman, a Métis writer and director created the series to give young students a fresh and interesting perspective. As well as telling myths, each episode will teach about Indigenous history and culture in Canada.

Series includes:

Raven Steals the Light

"Raven Steals the Light" is an adaptation of a myth that has been retold by several Indigenous cultures of North America. In our adaptation, Raven wants to steal the light from Sky Father so he can more easily find food. Sky Father is afraid that if he sets the light free, his daughter may find a husband and leave him. Teaching: A creation story from the Pacific West Coastal peoples.

Etthén Heldeli: Caribou Eaters

Grades 9-12 2018 CC 43 min 291 Film Company

Etthén Heldeli: Caribou Eaters travels with Déné First Nations people in Canada's north, as they search for the species so vital to every aspect of their lives – the barren-ground caribou. The documentary is a celebration of their rich ancient culture, and a visual document lamenting their traditions that could vanish, if the caribou disappear. The program follows Déné people as they hunt, harvest, butcher, feast, and celebrate the caribou, an iconic species that has sustained and defined their people for thousands of years.

12 Dogs Drive: The Run Home

Grades 9-12 2018 44 min Hemming House Pictures

In January 2018, Justin Allen of Saint John, N.B., fulfilled a dream that some might dismiss as foolhardy.

Driven by a love of dogsledding and a desire to expose more Canadians to the ancient Indigenous skill, he hooked up 12 dogs to a sled in Churchill, Man., to run all the way to New Brunswick. They travelled over tundra and frozen Hudson Bay, through Quebec's boreal forest and around flooded New Brunswick highways.

The documentary 12 Dogs: The Run Home tells the story of Allen's epic journey.
