

It's been a strange time since we published our last New Releases catalogue.
Our world has changed.

Many of our conversations are tinged with a little more stress of the unknown. My guess is few of us thought we would ever live in a world facing a world-wide pandemic.

Conversations that are long overdue are taking place. Anti-racism awareness is at the forefront. There is a deep-rooted and long history of racism worldwide and here in Canada, we are not immune. That is a conversation that must take place - perhaps over and over again until we understand and change happens.

There are other conversations - it got quieter during a pandemic - the earth responded and perhaps even thrived a little bit - and that too is something that must be discussed.

While some thrived, others were scared. Anxiety, social isolation, and loneliness - these too are conversations that can't be ignored. Mental health is important!

While there's a lot going on, we still think we "can and will" find a way through it all.

Perhaps one of the best ways is through educating ourselves. As teacher's, you are part of the conversation, part of the change and for that we thank you.

Here at McIntyre Media, we have reached out to film producers here at home and around the world to find video content that will start a conversation, educate and inspire and hopefully be part of the change.

Take a look...and let us know how we can help you.

Inspiring kids to have fun with words and language

Grades 1-4 2020 13 x 22 min episodes Apartment 11 Productions

A wonderful NEW Canadian-produced 13-part series that addresses multiple areas of the curriculum. For Grade 1 to 4 students.

- Builds literacy skills and explores various language concepts (spelling, parts of speech and ways of communicating).
- Addresses all areas of literacy development - reading, writing, speaking, listening, viewing and representing.
- Addresses the tangible connections made between the use of language and a variety of careers from computer coding to cooking, from making music (rapper) to writing videos.
- Provides interesting connections to various historical eras or civilizations.
- Children learning at home are encouraged to research, to play with words and to use technology to work with language.
- Encourages “the arts” with its use of music, dramatic skits, engaging visuals and graphic design.

Each 22 minute episode features various skits, songs, animation, games, interesting and engaging special guest interviews and different challenges and competitions with words and phrases, as well as conversations with kids to either answer fun questions or tell word/language concept related jokes. There are 13 different themed shows that feature hosts Zoey and Lukas, as well as a very special robot named Booboo Bot, who as Lukas’ virtual assistant, often gets mixed up when providing comical interactions with words and directions!

Episodes include:

Pirates	There are over a million words in the English language and many are rule-breakers just like pirates.
Chefs	There’s ooey goey, scrumptious, yummy fun in this episode that’s all about the power of sensory words.
Spies	Zoey and Lukas channel their inner spies as they delve into secret ways of communicating.
Alice in Wonderland	Zoey and Lukas create a world filled with opposites, palindromes and tricky double negatives.
Vikings	Why does English have so many words from other languages?
Pop Stars	Zoey and Lukas explore all kinds of fun wordplay used in songs, raps and stories.
Ancient Egyptians	Zoey and Lukas explore the many ways we can communicate with pictures, symbols and pictograms.
The OK Rodeo	Zoey and Lukas explore onomatopoeia and silent letters in this rodeo-themed episode.
Ad Magician	Zoey and Lukas explore some of the persuasive techniques and language used in advertising
Carnival	It’s carnival time and Zoey and Lukas discover the many ways you can say things without saying a word.
Medieval Fair	Zoey and Lukas look into fancy versus simple language and the poetry of old books and plays.
Twin	Zoey and Lukas explore “twin” words – homonyms and homophones – and host real twins in studio.
Heroes	Zoey and Lukas decide to write their own stories, casting themselves as superheroes.

Wacky Word Songs (Streaming Playlist Only)

2020 40 x 2 min episodes Apartment 11 Productions

A wonderful companion piece to the WACKY WORD SHOW!

WACKY WORD SONGS! is an educational series of 40 song-based episodes about language related concepts. Performed by “Zoey” (The Wacky Word Show!), every song is a playful engagement in literacy, language, and communication. Related to the Ontario language curriculum, the songs inspire kids to have fun with words and language while singing along. Learning is supported by clear text, situational storytelling, engaging and explanative visuals, and memorable songs.

#APT202 $299: 3 year Streaming Rights (includes 40 x 2 min episodes)

Title:	Subject:
The Mighty Squiggle	An apostrophe is so mighty it can replace letters in some of your favourite words!
Hype It Up	Zoey sings the most amazing song in the universe about hyperboles!
Don't Cook The Cook	It's time to dance a dance and rhyme some rhymes with Zoey.
The Active Snail	We use verbs all the time, even when it looks like we're not doing much at all.
Opposite World	Antonyms are awesome... the opposite of boring.
Chop It Up	Words can be split into beats just like music. The beats in words are called syllables.
Mind How You Go	We use words called adverbs to describe how we're doing things.
Zoey With a Zed	You can usually find Zoey at the end of a list in alphabetical order, because she's Zoey with a zed!
Izzy the Hamster	A noun is a word for a person, place or thing and there are two kinds: common nouns and proper nouns.
Wild and Wacky	Zoey wrote this bouncy, bubbly song about adjectives!
The Interjector	Interjections are useful words, but sometimes they interrupt and are a little bit rude.
Compound Words	You can make one word out of two. They're called compound words.
As Easy As A.B.C.	Time to sing like a bird about similes with Zoey!
Much versus Many	"Many" is for things you can count and "much" is for things that can't really be counted.
Curious Question Mark	Ready for another song? This one is all about question marks.
Over the Rainbow	Zoey is on the hunt for a hidden treasure and could sure use some prepositions to help her.
Fabulous, Fantastic, Phenomenal	Using synonyms helps Zoey write better stories and songs.
How the Upper Case Lives	Capital letters are a little snobby, but they are really important.
The Singular Plural Blues	Why do words like jeans, have an "S" at the end while only referring to one pair of something.
Team Up	A collective noun is a word for a group of people, animals or things.
Every Sentence Has to End	Even though we don't read punctuation out loud, we have to use it at the end of sentences.
Comma Commotion	Commas can really change the meaning of a sentence. Find out how with Zoey's new song!
Sentence Shoppera	Adding fun words to a sentence can make it all your own. Zoey wrote a song about it.
Every Story Needs Them	Remember the five W's with the help of Zoey's song and you'll tell some awesome stories.
Alone in a Crowd	Parentheses are just a little extra spice for your sentence. They can make a sentence just right.
Can't We Get Along?	Zoey sings about why we use different versions of the same verb.
You Can Quote Me	Zoey wrote a song about those squiggly punctuation marks called quotation marks.
Then versus Than	Zoey loves writing songs better THAN anything! She'll write more, THEN you can enjoy them!
Reverse Raccoon	Ever notice that some pairs of words always go together in the same order?
Great, Greater, Greatest	Some adjectives, like the word small, can be turned into whole new words when we want to describe how things compare to each other.
Undo Redo	Zoey can't undo what her dog did to her homework, but she can redo it and sing about prefixes.
Abbreviations	Zoey wrote a song about abbreviations, a shortened way to write a word.
Start to Finish	Zoey sings a song about how stories always have a beginning, middle, and end.
Secret Identity	Every noun – that's a person, place, or thing – can be replaced by something called a pronoun.
Subject vs Object	This song isn't going to sing Zoey! Zoey learned about the subject and object in a sentence.
We Don't Need an S	Zoey wrote a little song about words that don't follow the plural rules!
Remember Like an Elephant	Zoey wrote a song about memory tricks to help remember things.
Eat Your Words	When writing a paragraph, just think of a hamburger and you'll have the perfect recipe.
Look Who's Talking	Here's a song Zoey wrote about different points of view, from her point of view of course!
Don't Worry, Keep Writing	Spelling mistakes, weird sentences, wrong punctuation, rhymes that don't really rhyme... it's all okay because you can rewrite it a bunch of times!

WHERE'S MY ALPHABET is a series that takes us on a romp and a scavenger hunt to discover the alphabet in our very own backyards...literally! In our homes, on our driveways, in our gardens, through skype and other technology, and so on and so on and so on... In each snackable episode, our young treasure hunters will discover on their own, and in tandem with their parents/caregivers, pets, and other family members, 4 items that start with one letter of the alphabet. Our stars will use a device like a smart phone, or tablet, to find and film one item that starts with the letter A for example; and they will have their parents, their siblings, even grandparents, relatives from farther away, other countries even, on skype, to also showcase an item they have discovered that starts with the letter, until we have discovered our 4 word treasures.

Koyaa and the Annoying Objects (Streaming Playlist Only)

Grades K-3 2019 13 episodes X 2:45 each Monster Entertainment

"Children appreciate audacity and like heroes that inspire them: Koyaa does a great job of speaking to their inner world and imagination. Our hero overcomes obstacles with a spark of ingenuity, showing that nothing is impossible as long as you really put your mind to it. Hearing the children laugh and cheer, it's not hard to join in with a shout of 'More!' - Barbara Kelbl, Film Education and Young Audiences, Kinodvor Cinema

Koyaa and The Annoying Objects, is a fantastic, energetic stop motion animation series with no narration. It is a wonderful series to introduce young students' to story writing. Koyaa lives on a rocky ledge high above the clouds in a mountain cottage with his best friend Mr Raven. Their days are bursting with action and wacky adventure! Ordinary objects keep coming to life around Koyaa, causing all kinds of trouble. While Koyaa deals with the various goings-on, Mr Raven patiently builds and assembles his many birdhouses. He regularly checks up on Koyaa to see if his friend is OK. Koyaa barely notices Mr Raven, as he always has so much to deal with.

Cool Black North

Grades 7-12 2019 86 mins Second Time Around Productions Inc. 🇨🇦
Cool Black North explores the unique and vibrant Canadian Black Community and its role in our country's contemporary identity.

Through a series of intimate profiles, we are witness to a wide spectrum of life experiences, including the arts, entertainment, law, business, science and social activism. Though each person's pathway to success is unique, they all share a common purpose and strength in overcoming often racially-based obstacles to succeed at the highest levels in their respective fields. Most importantly it's their commitment to helping others and giving back to their communities that has earned them the recognition of the Harry Jerome Awards – these incredible people paint a diverse and compelling portrait of excellence in the documentary Cool Black North.

Grades 9-12 2019 45 mins OYA Media Group 🇨🇦
Best Writing in A Documentary: 2020 Canadian Screen Awards
Donald Brittain Award for Best Social/Political Documentary: 2020 Canadian Screen Awards

Winston LaRose, a beloved 80-year-old activist/amateur documentarian who has documented the Black community throughout the Black Diaspora for the past 60 years throws his hat into local politics and is met with unflinching systemic racism in the Canadian political system. This award-winning film gives an insider perspective of Black community activism in Canada.

This documentary follows Winston's fight for the community of Jane and Finch that ultimately highlights the lack of representation for black people and POC within the Canadian political system. This documentary shows the issue of systemic racism within the Canadian political system, the lack of representation for the marginalized and the negative generational effect colonialism has had on individuals, communities, and societies. However, this film also displays the undeniable strength of community, grassroots organizations, and the power and impact one person can have to change the world around them.

Soul on Ice: Past, Present, and Future

Grades 7-12 2015 Damon Kwame Mason 🇨🇦
WINNER - Audience Choice: Documentary Feature - Edmonton International Film Festival

Soul On Ice: Past, Present, and Future presents and retells the virtually unknown contributions of black athletes in ice hockey. For decades, hockey was seen as a homogeneous sport - exciting to watch but played by one kind of player. Soul On Ice presents the exploits of athletes who dared to stand out, and dared to make the sport their own. These Black athletes dared to give their sport soul. At the heart of the story is Jaden Lindo, a young man chasing after his lifelong dream to play in the NHL. The film follows Jaden in the most important year of his hockey life, mirroring the journey that many other black athletes have faced to make it to the NHL. Some of today's top NHL stars and former players join us on our journey through history, through in-depth personal interviews. Wayne Simmonds, Wille O'Ree, Herb Carnegie, Joel Ward, Trevor Daley, Mike Marson, Tony McKegney and five-time NHL Stanley Cup winner Grant Fuhr share their experiences. For the first time, Soul On Ice: Past, Present and Future sheds light on a subject hardly spoken of. The face of hockey is changing and this film shows us it has been in the making for a long time.

Grades 7-12 2016 6 min Rebels and Misfits Media

"Whitewash" examines slavery in Canada and its omission from the national narrative. The country prides itself as being the benevolent refuge where enslaved Africans who were brought to United States gained their freedom via the Underground Railroad. That powerful image overshadows the fact that slavery was legal in Canada for over 200 years under both French and British rule. "Whitewash" brings to light some of the slave families that were brought to Prince Edward Island by Loyalists and looks at how nine generations of descendants have assimilated to the point of leaving very few visible traces of their origin.

Grades 9-12 2015 74 min Passion River Films

From Academy Award Winner Jonathan Demme (The Silence of the Lambs, Philadelphia, The Manchurian Candidate)

"A timely portrait of the racial problems that continue to plague America." - Indiewire

September 4, 1992: An elderly woman in a small town in upstate New York reports an attempted rape by a young black man who cut his hand during the altercation. While looking for suspects, police contact officials at SUNY Oneonta, a nearby college, and a school administrator reacts by handing over a list of names and residences of 125 black male students. For the next several days, those students are tracked down and interrogated by various police departments under a presumption of guilty until proven innocent. In Brothers of the Black List, director Sean Gallagher tracks this story of racism that became the longest litigated civil rights case in American history. An emotional story of social justice, this unsettling documentary is also a cautionary tale of equal rights gone wrong that is relevant today more than ever.

The Blind Stigma: Mental Health within the Black Community

Grades 9-12 2015 59 min Stacy-Ann Buchanan

Produced and Directed by Stacy-Ann Buchanan, The Blind Stigma is an award winning documentary that discusses mental health within the Black community. It chronicles and testifies the stories of five individuals (including Buchanan's) on their trials and triumphs with mental health. Within the Black community, mental health is deemed as a 'Swept Under the Rug' stigma that has been creating false illusions and assumptions for a long time. That stigma is the core component of the African Canadian response to mental illness, and therefore African Canadians who suffer from mental illness are less likely to seek treatment. As a result, very few studies have been done on the impact of mental illness in the Black community. The Blind Stigma powerfully removes the veil of shame that clouds the topic of mental illness in the Black community, challenges that misconception, gives a voice to Black Canadians living with mental illness and leaves the audience more informed and empowered.

In this revealing documentary, eleven people with a range of backgrounds discuss what it is like being of mixed racial heritage within the context of Canada. Each of the participants presents their unique outlook on growing up mixed and the challenges they've faced in their lives. No two experiences are identical when speaking about their journey of how each person came to perceive themselves. Many speak of the difference between how they saw themselves versus how the world at large treated them. What Are You shows how a seemingly simple question comes with a rather complex answer.

"This was the most depressing time I had in my whole political life." — Marc Lalonde, former Liberal Cabinet Minister (1972-1984)

In the 1960s, Quebec was changing rapidly. It was called a "Quiet Revolution" as economic and social change rippled through the province. The pace of change was not fast enough for a small radical element in Quebec. It wanted nothing less than an independent, socialist Quebec. In 1963, a group of those young radicals formed the Front de Liberation du Quebec, the FLQ. It took up arms and began a seven-year campaign of violence. Between 1963 and 1970, the separatist FLQ planted deadly bombs and kidnapped a Quebec cabinet minister. The Rankin File: Legacy of a Radical

Grades 9-12 2018 90 min The Harry Rankin Film Society

"A fascinating film ... A full picture of Harry Rankin ... A marvelous chronicle of Vancouver." ~ THE COMMENTARY
"Brisk and evocative ... If you've got any interest at all in Vancouver politics, how it is today and what came before, this is a must-see film." ~ VANCOUVER OBSERVER

Traces the life and career of Vancouver legend and outspoken socialist Harry Rankin, who in 1986 fought for the mayor's seat against a young, right-wing upstart named Gordon Campbell.

Rankin's fifty-year career was marked with countless celebratory highs and devastating lows. His work ethic was legendary – not even thirty years of surveillance by the RCMP for alleged ties to the Communist Party could slow him down. Since his death over a decade ago, he has left an indelible mark not only on Vancouver's political scene, but also upon his many colleagues, family members, friends and foes. Harry's legacy is complicated and stands as a point of controversy amongst those closest to him.

The epidemic COVID-19 virus has caused international apprehension for everyday life, but in Wuhan, China, the initial location of the outbreak, the city initially on lockdown became eerily empty. W5 presents a rare, first-person account from one Canadian quarantined in the disease's epicenter with INSIDE WUHAN. After receiving notice that his apartment building was about to be placed into lockdown, C.R. Holmes, took to the streets – avoiding authorities, living in his car and in hotel rooms for days on end, and uploading the footage of the ghost city back to Canada.

While seemingly draconian the Chinese authorities' quarantine of the city of 11 million is being credited for slowing and possibly containing the spread of the deadly virus.

Understanding Social Anxiety

Grades 6-12 2020 13 min Human Relations Media

Social anxiety--the negative emotions and fear of ordinary social interactions--affects 40% of all teens. A diverse group of on-camera teens presents the issues. Each explains their symptoms, talks about how social anxiety impacts their lives, and shares their coping strategies. A clinical psychologist provides professional insight. Viewers will understand how common social anxiety is, how it can cause teens to miss out on their lives, and where to go for help.

Combating Social Isolation and Loneliness

Grades 6-12 2020 13 min Human Relations Media

When real life connections are lost to virtual connections, social isolation and loneliness can happen. This program looks at the reasons why so many young people feel that "no one really knows them well." Experts weigh in on the true toll of social isolation and loneliness, including physical, emotional, and mental health issues. Teens and experts discuss specific steps teens can take to reconnect with others. The program ends with the young people profiled talking about how their experiences in combating loneliness improved their lives by building self-esteem, lowering rates of anxiety and depression, and creating a happier, more optimistic outlook.

Vaping and Viruses: Your Lungs, Your Health

Grades 6-12 2020 17 min

Human Relations Media

Vaping hurts your lungs and depresses your immune system - that combo may put you at higher risk for complications from viral infections of all kinds, including Covid-19. Listen to the experts explain the problem. They are on the frontlines of the Covid-19 pandemic, and although healthy teens are at lower risk for serious infections from Covid-19, teens that vape may be at as much risk as adult cigarette smokers. Vaping compromises your lung health leaving your lungs vulnerable to pathogens. We know teen vapers experience "wet lung" syndrome where vape fluids collect in the lungs and make breathing difficult. Viruses like Covid-19 attack the lungs causing pneumonia, and then a cascade of organ failure.

The Blind Stigma

Grades 9-12 2015 59 min Stacy-Ann Buchanan

WINNER - AWI Short Film Competition

The Blind Stigma is a documentary that discusses mental health within the Black community. It chronicles and testifies the stories of five individuals on their trials and triumphs with mental health. Within the Black community, mental health is deemed as a 'Swept Under The Rug' stigma that has been creating false illusions and assumptions for a long time.

That stigma is the core component of the African Canadian response to mental illness, and therefore African Canadians who suffer from mental illness are less likely to seek treatment. As a result very few studies have been done on the impact of mental illness in the Black community. The Blind Stigma powerfully removes the veil of shame that clouds the topic of mental illness in the Black community, challenge that misconception, give a voice to Black Canadians living with mental illness and leaves the audience more informed and empowered.

"Highly Recommended. Diligently documents the origin and success story of a self-managing cooperative factory, which can be used to encourage discussions in subjects related to labor movements, trade union struggles, and businesses. The film is appropriate for public and academic library collections." —

Educational Media Reviews Online

TASTE OF HOPE is the fascinating story of a workers' cooperative on their bumpy and conflicting road to real utopia. Where idealism clashes with harsh reality, the documentary observes the factory workers as they face inevitable challenges. For two years, the filmmaker accompanied the workers in their daily struggles. Between general assemblies, cash-flow problems and tea tastings with potential clients, deception, and conflict emerge. Ultimately, the documentary poses the question: How do we need to work today so we might live in a better world tomorrow?

3 Seconds Divorce tells Lubna's story as she reels under the effects of triple-divorce and finds her way into Bharatiya Muslim Mahila Andolan, an Indian muslim women's group advocating for a legal ban on this type of divorce. A sharia interpretation allows Muslim men to divorce their wives by simply saying the word 'divorce' three times in one go. Commonly called triple-talaq or triple-divorce, this instant, oral divorce can only be given by men. In India, Muslim women fought and won an arduous battle to get this practice legally abolished. This is their story. Shot over three years, the documentary provides an intimate account of Lubna's struggles and also gives us behind-the-scenes access to the movement that led to a ban on instant, oral, divorce in India.

Raven's Quest Series, Season 2

Grades 1-5 2020 20 episodes x 7 min ea Apartment 11

Raven's Quest features first-person profiles of Indigenous kids from across the country. Each episode showcases a different child and their unique perspective on their day-to-day hobbies, their talents, and First Nations, Métis or Inuit practices. This season's adventures include: snowboarding and making cedar-bark bracelets in British Columbia, cooking wild rice pudding in Ontario, lobster fishing in New Brunswick and drum-making and a visit with some rare white buffalo in Manitoba.

At first glance, this series appears to be just a collection of stories about First Nation children. However, what emerges is a compilation that challenges the audience to rethink what they assume about First Nations. As children learn about this topic and as it is mandated by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, this program becomes an imperative for schools to share and feature in their collections. The series introduces children to the diversity of FNMI communities, showing the different languages, territories and traditions of each nation. It breaks down stereotypes and presents the lives of FNMI in a positive light.

Finding Peter Bryce: Story of a National Crime

Grades 7-12 2018 24 min Peter Campbell

Dr. Peter Bryce was Ontario's first Chief of Public Health; his innovations were copied across North America. In the early 20th Century, as the medical officer with oversight responsibilities for Canada's Residential School System, Bryce identified the shortcomings of the system's response to malnutrition and tuberculosis. His reports on the epidemics and recommendations for their remedy were set aside by senior government officers and he was relieved of his duties. In 1922, Bryce published Story of a National Crime, describing the tragic consequences. The documentary Finding Peter Bryce reveals that not all settler peoples were blind to the injustice inherent in Canada's residential school system and the effects of those shortcomings. Dr. Bryce's perspective was in sharp contrast to that of civil servant Duncan Campbell Scott, whose tragic role as deputy superintendent of the Department of Indian Affairs is outlined in the film. But First Nations' children's advocate, Cindy Blackstock points out that many of us today find ourselves making similar decisions when there is pressure to conform. Each of us must choose how we respond to the challenge of reconciliation.

In the Footsteps of Our Ancestors

Grades 7-12 2020 60 min Nicholas Castel

"This teaching is going to help educate the people, to see how we have to work together in the future for the next seven generations. It was a very powerful film. Very much so." - Perry Bellegarde, Canadian National Chief of the Assembly of First Nations

In The Footsteps Of Our Ancestors is an award-winning documentary feature and multi-layered community engagement project focused on the Canol Youth Leadership Hike: an epic wilderness trek in the homeland of the Shúhtagot'ıne (Mountain Dene). The trail follows the historic WWII CANOL pipeline route in the Sahtú Region of the Northwest Territories.

Tracing the abandoned remains of the Canol Pipeline project, one of World War II's failed energy pursuits, the diverse team of youth, elders and community guides walk in the footsteps of the Shúhtagot'ıne Mountain Dene, the Indigenous stewards of the land since time immemorial.

Faced with some of the most beautiful and unforgiving wilderness found in Canada, the team quickly understand what the realities of life in the mountains would have been like for their Sahtú Dene and Métis ancestors and the difficulties faced by the American Army in building one of the greatest constructions projects of the 20th century.

With each foot placed in front of the other, the hikers reveal an enduring message for future generations and showcase the power of youth leadership, the spirit of teamwork, and the tremendous potential we unlock inside ourselves when we are chosen by the land.

The Mill

Grades 9-12 2020 52 min Mill Film ON Inc and Mill Film NS Inc

From filmmaker David W. Craig and award-winning producer Ann Bernier, explores the entangled history of the Northern Pulp mill in Pictou County, and its deeply rooted effects on the economy, the indigenous community and the traditional lifestyles of Pictou County

A challenge common to rural communities the world over is taking place in Pictou County, Nova Scotia where there is sharp division over the fate of the local pulp mill. To correct a historic injustice the mill must, by law, stop flowing pulp effluent into the tidal lagoon next to the Mi'kmaq community of Pictou Landing. To keep operating the mill has proposed a controversial plan to redirect its effluent into the environmentally sensitive fishing grounds of the Northumberland Strait. Fishermen say "No Pipe". The mill says "No Pipe No Mill". A line has been drawn and with jobs at stake the issue has reached a boiling point.

AFTER FACT: An Unvarnished Portrait of Real-Life News Work

Grades 9-12 2020 55 min CC Lindsay A. Fitzgerald

What does journalism look like when lies trump truth, clicks control the news, and layoffs abound? After Fact is an unvarnished, observational portrait of real-life news work in Canada. A broadcast investigative journalist switches between covering an unsolved celebrity-murder story and probing a policy chasm that costs schoolchildren's lives. A small-city reporter watches colleagues' desks empty as she fights to believe her job still matters. A tough young City Hall reporter puts a human face to decayed housing. Canada's first crowdfunded independent journalist covers city council with no other reporters in sight. Filmed over the course of three years during a cataclysmic shift in the business of news, After Fact documents what we all stand to lose in the face of journalism's decline.

Call Me Intern follows three interns-turned-activists who refuse to accept that young people should have to work for free in order to kick start their careers. Each of their stories challenge youth stereotypes as well as give a voice to the growing movement for intern rights across the world. Alongside their documented experiences come testimonies and extracts from various academics, politicians and employers to paint a picture of how wide the internship phenomenon has spread. Each of these interns faces a choice, either accept the system the way it currently is or put their careers on the line in order to speak out against the status quo. Their actions help give visibility and strength to a growing global intern movement and reveal the pressures which lead so many millennials to work for free.
