KING COFFEE

• Version: « Le café: la revanche du petit noir »

[DVDA173-042] 1 x 52 minutes | 2018 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Food, Industry and Commerce, Lifestyles

Oh that little espresso in the morning... whether at the corner café, at home or with colleagues at the office, who doesn't follow the daily ritual?... On a global scale, coffee is the most consumed drink after water. In value it is the world's biggest agricultural product... And things are not likely to change, because consumption of coffee is on the rise, driven by new ways of consuming it. Over the last ten years the "regional" trend has become evident with the boom in coffee shops where baristas serve coffee as if it were wine. Behind their glistening neo-retro percolaters they talk of body, power, fruit, bitterness... It looks as if the "quick brew" is becoming "grand cru".

FOUR SEASONS WITH DIOR

• Version: « Quatre saisons chez Dior »

[DVDA173-040] 1 x 57 minutes | 2017 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Fashion and Costume

2017 was a historic year for Christian Dior. The fashion house celebrated 70 years of French haute couture history. One of the year's highlights was the appointment of Maria Grazia Chiuri, former artistic director of Valentino, as Dior's first female creative director in its history. To underline this historic moment, she presented her debut couture collection in Paris. Along with this eagerly awaited event in the fashion world, Christian Dior concurrently launched its new store in Tokyo. The film takes us behind the scenes, on a year's journey into the inner workings of the formidable fashion house, experiencing these events alongside seamstresses, apprentices, milliners... All those who contributed to make Dior a temple of excellence.

J.L. SERT, A NOMADIC DREAM

[DVDA285-002] 1 x 52 minutes | 2013 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Architecture, Biography

Josep Lluís Sert was a brilliant, Spanish architect and the first to attain international fame in his country. He was a man of contradictions, a contentious presence –free verse in a world dominated by replicas and serial reproductions. He dared to be an avant-garde architect in his home country, a country ruled under the most absolute of conservatisms. His love of art brought him into contact with the likes of Le Corbusier, Picasso, Miró and Chagall...

PERSONA, THE FILM THAT SAVED INGMAR BERGMAN

• Version: « Persona, le film qui a sauvé Ingmar Bergman »

[DVDA196-020] 1 x 53 minutes | 2018 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Cinema and Film Arts, Biography

The only director to have been awarded the Palme des Palmes at Cannes, Ingmar Bergman can be seen as the uncontested master of "cinéma d'auteur". Tarantino, Woody Allen or Michael Haneke regard the director as the absolute film-maker, whose life and work have no equivalent. Ten years after his death, as we prepare to celebrate the centenary of his birth, this film recounts a single year in Bergman's life. A pivotal year, a crazy year, in which he would die, and then be reborn thanks to his passion for cinema, and one film: "Persona". July 14, 2018 will be the 100th anniversary of his birth.

• Version: « Coup de poker sur le brut »

[DVDA173-041] 1 x 54 minutes | 2018 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Industry and Commerce, Geopolitics

At the end of 2013, the price of a barrel of oil started to fall and within two years it had lost 70% of its value. This downturn in oil could have been just one more event in the story of oil prices, but it also revealed an incredible scenario. By becoming the planet's largest producer of the black gold because of their shale oil, the United States overturned the world order in oil that had prevailed since the Second World War. In a major strategic change, the Americans were no longer dependent on oil from their Saudi allies, who had come under suspicion following the September 11 attacks of 2001. To counter this power grab, Saudi Arabia engaged in a game of poker by producing surplus oil in order to drive the price of a barrel as low as possible and bring off a triple coup: ruin the American shale oil industry and weaken its worst enemies, Russia and Iran...

• Version: « Alpuxarras »

[DVDA285-003] 1 x 52 minutes | 2015 | $DVD (U): 235 | $DVD (S):

Cat: Middles Ages, Europe

Alpuxarras narrates the Muslim conquest of the Iberian Peninsula and the subsequent Christian conquest, until the end of the expulsion of the Moriscos in the XVII century. Focusing on the presence of the Muslims in Galicia and the forced colonization of the Alpuxarras by the Galicians, the similarities between common traditions, today almost forgotten, are exposed. A look to Alpuxarras allows us to know a past that is necessary to understand the present reality.

Fractured by the renewal of the Kurd conflict and the ongoing threat of Jihadists from Syria, Turkey is undergoing a period of uncertainty and intense political and social tension. The failed coup d'etat of the night of July 16th 2016 by a part of the army, intended to "restore freedom and democracy" is highly illustrative of the divisions within Turkish society, increasingly subjected to the growing authority of President Erdogan and his Islamo-conservative party, the AKP. So what remains today of the heritage of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, the founder of the Turkish republic, and a fervent advocate of a secular state and social progress?

In the Arctic, the Norwegian city of Longyearbyen, extracts coal for one hundred years as an energetic and economic source, which stirs many environmental paradoxes. In 2015, the mayor election year, the coal prices fall and the issue of sustainable development starts to emerge in the minds. According to some scientists, politicians and city locals, Longyearbyen is now facing a race against the clock.
